MARRIED IN GREEN BOWER

Miss Ruth E. Watkins Bride of Charles H. Moorfield.

One of the prettiest weddings of the early spring was that of Miss Ruth E. Watkins, daughter of Mrs. Watkins and the late Dr. J. E. Watkins, and Charles H. Moorfield, which took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Watkins, in S street.

The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. C. Ernest Smith, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends, and was followed by a reception. The drawing room was charmingly decorated with palms and pink roses and lavender sweet peas, carrying out a color scheme of lavender and pink. The marriage service was read in the north window, which was transformed into a bower of green, studded with pink roses. A string orchestra furnished the wedding music and played for the reception throughout the evening.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, John Elfreth Watkins, of Philadelphia, wore a lovely gown of white satin and tulle with pointed train, the tulle forming the lower portion of the skirt, and the bodice being of tulle and satin, having a girdle of pearls. She wore a tulle veil with a Normandy cap of rose point fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower of orchids, roses, and lilies of the valley.

Miss Alice Peacock, the bride's only attendant, was in a dainty gown of lavender tulle over lavender tissue, with a girdle of pink panne velvet, the skirt being draped with garlands of silver roses and the bodice formed of silver lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Herbert S. Fairbank, of Baltimore, was best man for Mr. Moorfield.

Mrs. Watkins, mother of the bride, received in a handsome gown of black tulle built over black satin, with trimmings of jet.

HIS COLD GOES OVERNIGHT WITH NEW TREATMENT

Pottstown Father Uses One Application of Vick's VapoRub.

YOU JUST RUB VICK'S ON

Mr. Joseph Hane, 256 Apple st., is the father of this handsome young son. Last winter, when the Southern remedy, Vick's VapoRub Salve, was being introduced in Pottstown, Druggist Chas. S. Bentz presented Mr. Hane with a jar, and asked that he give it a thorough trial and report the results. Mr. Hane writes—

"My little boy took sick one night very suddenly with a heavy cold, so we applied your salve on his chest and saved ourselves going for the doctor. The next day we could scarce tell he had a cold."

It is a fact that most colds are relieved in one night, and croup usually in fifteen minutes just by applying VapoRub over throat and chest and covering with a warm flannel cloth. This preparation works in two ways: first, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin taking out the tightness and soreness, and then the heat of the body liberates the ingredients which are in the form of vapors. These vapors open the air passages and loosen the phlegm.
